When Iran was conquered, flour mills were brought to Madinah, and Hazrat Umar (ra) said that the first flour from the mills should be sent to Hazrat A'ishah (ra). This showed the great respect he had for the wives and family of the Holy Prophet (sa). The women of Madinah had never seen such fine flour before, and so they gathered around Hazrat A'ishah (ra) to see it.

Great Humility of Hazrat Umar (ra)

– Cont'd

The Second Caliph (ra) said that this wasn't any special flour, rather it was of even less quality than the flour which the poorest of the poor had to eat.

When Hazrat A'ishah (ra) placed the cooked flour in her mouth, she began to cry. When asked why she was crying, she said she was thinking of the Holy Prophet (sa) who even in his final days of life did not have much to eat. The person due to whom all the bounties were possible was gone, yet they were able to benefit from this bounty and favour. Later Hazrat A'ishah (ra) said she could not eat anymore.

Hazoor (aba) said he would continue highlighting the life of Hazrat Umar(ra) in the future.
