Summary

Incidents from the Life of the Holy Prophet (sa) – Incidents During the Battle of Uhud

His Holiness (aba) continued narrating incidents from the Battle of Uhud.

The Holy Prophet (sa) was greatly pained to learn that the disbelievers had mutilated some of the Muslims' bodies, including that of his uncle. However, it was revealed to him that no matter the sentiments of revenge that may arise, mercy and justice must always prevail.

The Holy Prophet (sa) very wisely forbade wailing and lamenting over the deceased.

After the Battle of Uhud, the Holy Prophet (sa) instructed the Muslims to make rows behind him and made a prayer.

His Holiness (aba) said that the female Companions played a pivotal role during the Battle of Uhud.

His Holiness (aba) led the funeral prayers in absentia of five recently deceased members.

Islamic Instructions Regarding Wailing Upon A Person's Demise

Battle of Uhud

The Holy Prophet (sa) very wisely forbade wailing and lamenting over the deceased.

Wailing

When the Holy Prophet (sa) returned from Uhud, he learned that the women of the Ansar would cry and wail over their deceased husbands.

Muslim Women

The Holy Prophet (sa) asked whether there was no one to wail for Hazrat Hamzah (ra).

Funeral Prayers

And so the women gathered to wail for Hazrat Hamzah (ra).

Islamic Instructions Regarding Wailing Upon A Person's Demise

In the meantime, the Holy Prophet (sa) fell asleep.

Wailing

When he awoke, the women were still wailing, and the Holy Prophet (sa) asked if they would continue wailing for Hazrat Hamzah (ra) like this.

Muslim Women

He said that they should return to their homes and that from that day forward, no one should wail over the deceased.

Funeral Prayers

Thus, the Holy Prophet (sa) remained mindful of their sentiments, while also wisely putting an end to this tradition of wailing.

Burial of Hazrat Mus'ab bin Umair (ra)

Wailing

When the Holy Prophet (sa) found the body of Hazrat Mus'ab (ra) who had been martyred, he recited the following verse of the Holy Qur'an:

Muslim Women

'Among the believers are men who have been true to the covenant they had made with Allah. There are some among them who have fulfilled their vow, and there are others among them who still wait, and they have not changed their condition in the least.' (The Holy Qur'an, 33:24)

Then, the Holy Prophet (sa) attested that such people would maintain the rank of martyrdom in the sight of Allah the Almighty on the Day of Judgement.

Hazrat Mirza Bashir Ahmad (ra) writes:

‘One honourable man from among the martyrs of Uḥud was Mus‘ab bin ‘Umair (ra). He was the first Muhajir who came to Madīnah as a missionary of Islam. In the era of the Jahiliyyah, among the young men of Makkah, Mus‘ab (ra) was considered to be the most well-dressed and elegant, and lived in great comfort and luxury. After accepting Islam, his condition was transformed completely. In fact, there is a narration that on one occasion, the Holy Prophet (sa) saw him dressed in a cloth which was covered with numerous patches. At this, the Holy Prophetsa was reminded of his earlier life, and the eyes of the Holy Prophet (sa) began to glisten with tears. When Mus‘ab (ra) was martyred at Uhud, he did not even have enough cloth by which his body could be covered fully. If his feet were covered, his head would become exposed, and if his head was covered, his feet would become bare. As such, according to the instruction of the Holy Prophet (sa), his head was covered with cloth and his feet were covered with grass.’

On the day of the Battle of Uhud, the Holy Prophet (sa) pointed out a disbeliever to Hazrat Sa'd (ra) and instructed him to shoot an arrow at him.

This arrow did not have a point, and was essentially a mere stick, however, when it struck the disbeliever and moved him out of the way, the Holy Prophet (sa) smiled, because even with such an arrow, Allah the Almighty moved this disbeliever out of the Muslims' way.

It was also on this occasion that the Holy Prophet (sa) said to Hazrat Sa'd (ra), 'May my parents be sacrificed for you.'

Pivotal Role of Muslim Women in the Battle of Uhud

Battle of Uhud

Even whilst injured and in pain, the Holy Prophet (sa) maintained his composure and continued guiding the Muslims.

Wailing

One of the Holy Prophet's (sa) bottom teeth broke after being struck by a stone and his bottom lip also started bleeding.

Muslim Women

The Holy Prophet (sa) prayed against Utbah bin Abi Waqqas who had thrown the stone, that he may die in the state of belief during the same year.

Funeral Prayers

It so happened that Utbah died the same day at the hands of Hatib bin Balta'ah.

The Holy Prophet (sa) said that God was pleased with Hatib.

Pivotal Role of Muslim Women in the Battle of Uhud

Battle of Uhud

Hazrat Umm Ammarah (ra) and her sons partook in the Battle of Uhud.

Wailing

The Holy Prophet (sa) prayed for her entire family, that God may shower them with His mercy and blessings.

Muslim Women

Hazrat Umm Ammarah (ra) requested the Holy Prophet (sa) to pray that they may accompany him in heaven.

She said that she did not care about what happened to her in this world.

Funeral Prayers

This was the example established by the female Companions and their love for the Holy Prophet (sa).

These were the women who did not care for worldly things but gave precedence to their faith.
